“On behalf of dwp, I am delighted to have accepted this prestigious award, obtaining further international recognition afforded by Hospitality Design and their awards celebrating excellence in design around the globe. We are proud and honoured that our design for the Emporium Penthouse has been singled out among our peers and the industry,” shared dwp group CEO, Brenton Mauriello.

Inspiration for the design of this 356sqm penthouse was derived from the metropolitan location of the building, surrounded by business districts, stylish shopping malls and hip urban spots, under the concept 'Urban Unwind'. The objective was to create a luxurious, stylish, intelligent, urban-casual environment. Yet, site constraints prevented the demolition of any existing structures, so dwp sought to create moderate revisions, with significant impact. Working around the existing structure, walls, stone flooring, bathroom fixtures, dwp injected new elements to achieve a brand new look and enhance the higher level of luxury required.

Blending a new sophisticated colour scheme and finishes, with the existing ones was a major challenge. An elegant tailor-made circular lighting sculpture, of various sizes and heights, accentuates the 4-metre-high living and dining area ceiling, while a thoughtful selection of furniture and accessories achieved the desired balance. Etched patterns adorn grey tinted glass panelling, fitted to an existing stainless steel frame, providing a completely new feature to the space. The new look, enhancing the sophistication of the Emporium brand, meant the suite was fully booked out, even before construction had finished.
