dwp | design worldwide partnership architect ‘Highly Commended’ in Middle East Architect Awards 2011

dwp has received ‘Highly Commended’ recognition for Young Architect of the Year nomination Florian Oettl, in this year’s Middle East Architect Awards 2011, recognising the best projects and individuals from the region...

Among nominations from throughout the MENA region, dwp | design worldwide partnership was delighted to have been shortlisted in three categories: Architect of the Year, Raya Ani; Residential Project of the Year, Maysan Residences; and Young Architect of the Year, Florian Oettl. The Middle East Architect Awards 2011 held a glamorous gala ceremony on Wednesday 24th September 2011 at the Jumeirah Emirates Tower, Dubai, and announced Florian Oettl, as ‘Highly Commended’, since ‘Florian’s hugely impressive portfolio contains a vast number of completed projects’.

“We, at dwp, are very proud of Florian and his work having been recognised in this manner, among our peers and respected industry experts in the MENA region,” commented dwp group CEO, Brenton Mauriello.

Florian Oettl, educated in Germany and the US, is a licensed architect in Germany and a member of the Society of Engineers in Dubai. His rigorous design approach is to constantly evolve the best design solutions, through the entire design process, from conception to built form. Florian’s experience includes the design for high-rise residential and commercial buildings, museums and urban master plans, with awards from the Rudolf Lodders Foundation, the Eo Wijers Foundation, and the Berlin Institute of Technology, as well as from international design competitions.
