dwp | design worldwide partnership wins 2 International Property Awards Asia Pacific 2012

dwp | design worldwide partnership proudly accepted 2 (two) International Property Awards Asia-Pacific 2012, recently, as further testament to its iconic designs.

World-class architecture and interior design firm dwp picked up two awards, firstly in the category of Office Architecture with the FrieslandCampina HQ, in Binh Duong Province, Vietnam and secondly in the category of Leisure Interiors with Chill Skybar & Restaurant, in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam.

“We, at dwp, are very proud to have won both of these prestigious awards, for very different projects. This further emphasizes the impact our design approach is having on an international scale,” noted Desmond Harty Spencer, MD for dwp Vietnam.

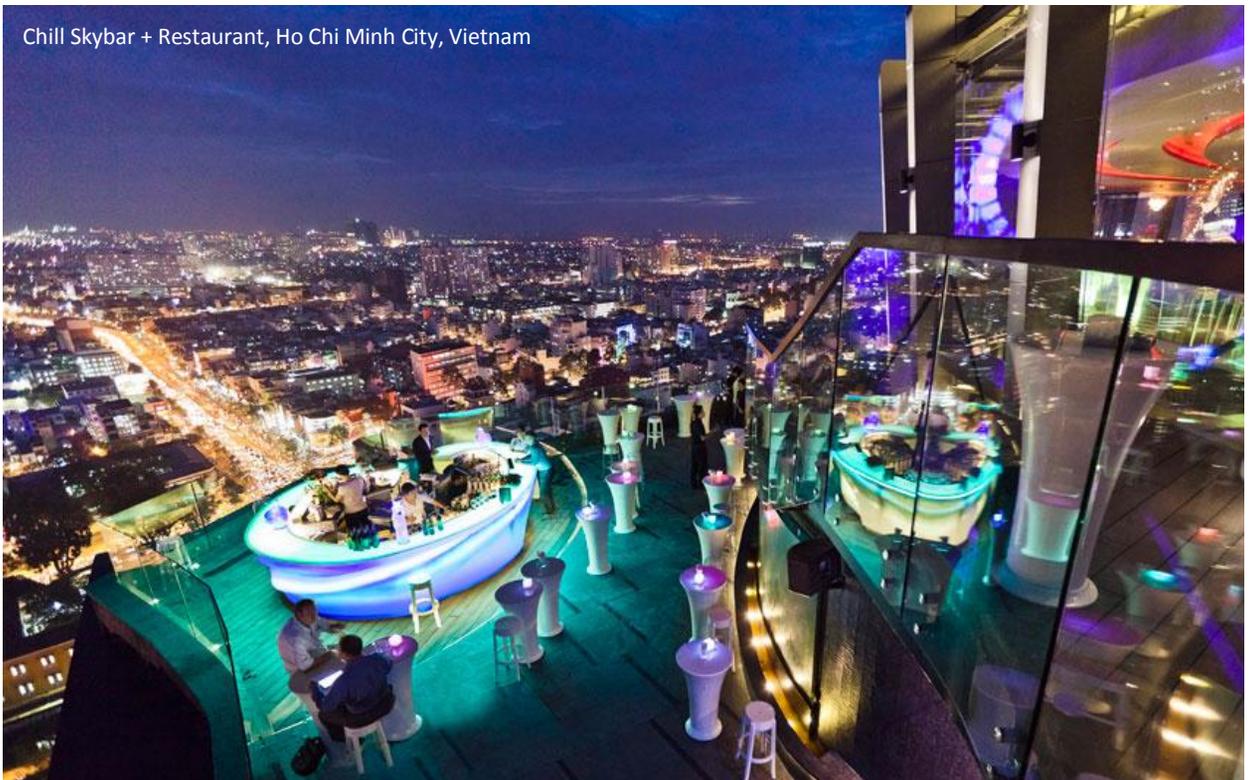

The official announcement and award ceremony for the International Property Awards Asia Pacific 2012 took place at the regional Property & Hospitality Summit, on the 27th April in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, this year. Top winners of the regional rounds from Europe, Africa, Arabia, UK and the Americas will be put forward for re-assessment to judge the ‘World’s Best’ in the International Property Awards 2012-2013, to be announced later this year.

FrieslandCampina HQ, Binh Duong Province, Vietnam

North of Ho Chi Minh City, the state-of-the-art FrieslandCampina office headquarters is affectionately known as 'House of Milk'. The unique design incorporates and upholds the client's vision for this new endeavour and fully respects their core dairy product business. A new designated hub, to support expanding operations in Vietnam, it encapsulates the youthful and progressive spirit of the company. Playfully themed on a 'spilled milk' analogy, inspired by the client's colourful splash of milk logo, together with a continuous sloping green roof, the landscape design makes for exciting visual drama. The design extends out into the surrounding landscape to emphasize the new headquarters, as the hub of commercial activity. The landscape design and the architecture incorporate Feng Shui principles throughout, forming an integral part of how the complex is experienced by its users. Upon arrival, this 6,500sqm complex, with a living green roof, signals a contemporary and active work environment.

Chill Skybar + Restaurant, Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam

Chill Skybar & Restaurant is an outstandingly chic new landmark design establishment, setting the benchmark for the region in rooftop wining and dining. Juxtaposed from the streamlined, robust character of the office building, upon which it perches, this venue works come rain or shine and enhances the enjoyment of all sensual pleasures with its curvaceous, fluid, urban drama. The space created was not envisaged at being too trendy, but rather timeless, evoking a style that people will come back to time and again.
